

Archaeological researches in rural settlements from the 1st millenium in Timișoara's area (summary)

For the 1-st millenium AD there were recorded some settlements of the Daco-Roman, Romanic and Romanian population, some being systematically investigated during the last decades by the archaeologists from the Banat Museum of Timișoara.

A great scientific importance have the results of the archaeological research from Timișoara – Cioreseni, Timișoara – Freidorf and Timișoara – Fratelia. What is very important to mention is that the investigations done so far in the 1-st millenium settlements prove the continuity of the autochtoneous population in the plain area of the Banat region.
